Council to investigate city police protection

By HENRY CANTIN

An official investigation and survey to determine "the best available police protection for Romulus" has been initiated by Romulus City Council, it was disclosed Monday.

Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael when asked to comment on community-wide reports of police department re-organization for the city, admitted that he and city council have under consideration preliminary discussions held on providing the best available law enforcement for Romulus.

He emphasized that no official action has been taken and that further discussions will be held.

He disclosed that talks with representatives of the Wayne County Sheriff's Office on providing police protection have been held and that city council will be listening to others.

Romulus' current police department, under the direction of Police Chief Jacob J. Koch, has a contract was approved by officers, including a sergeant, dog warden, two office girls a part time janitor and two auxiliary police officers.

The present police department personnel are members of the Romulus Police Officers Association which has a two-year employment contract with the community officials, negotiated under the Old Township Board. The contract expires in July, 1972.

The association, it was stated, is affiliated with the Fraternal Order of Police (FOP).

An association official reported that attempts to open negotiations with the city on wages is "long over due".

Wage provisions of the contract can be re-opened at the end of the first year. The contract was approved by the township in July, 1970.

Romulus voters approved city incorporation in a special election in May, 1970.

A group of concerned citizens met on Aug. 30 to discuss the future of the police department.

A spokesman for the group, Charles J. Dick, Jr., who was a member of the City Charter Commission, stated that these citizens became very concerned and anxious over their community police department because of the various statements made about the possibility of reduction of the department in favor of an anticipated agreement with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department.

At the meeting, the group agreed to present to the city council at its Sept. 1 session, a list of five pertinent and important questions concerning the future role of the police department in the life of Romulus. The questions follow:

What new concepts and administration planning is anticipated to be enacted concerning the police department?

When? and If so who shall head the Romulus Police Department? officially?

What is the budget geared for regarding the Romulus Police Department?

Washington confabs lure young Democrat

Being the executive chairman for the "Students for Muskie '72", and a campus coordinator for U.S. Senate candidate Philip Hart can be an interesting and busy job.

Barry Baumann, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Baumann of 9440 Ozga Rd., Romulus experienced such activity during the past week. Sunday, Aug. 23, Barry ventured to the last day of the Michigan Democratic State Convention in Grand Rapids, Michigan, for a meeting with Senator Philip Hart. Other district coordinators and college coordinators were present.

Following the convention, Barry left for Washington, D.C., on Tuesday, Aug. 25 for meetings there.

Arriving at National Airport in the late morning hours, Barry proceeded to the offices of Senator Edmund Muskie. There he was given a schedule of meetings for that day.

Baumann first met with David Sternoff, president of the National Young Democrats, at the Democratic National Headquarters for over an hour. He then conferred with Charles Perry, assistant national coordinator for "Project '70-Clearing house".

Following that meeting, Barry met with Robert Nelson, staff director for the McGovern Commission, which is for research into Democratic Party problems and to provide guidelines for the party to follow.

Wednesday, Aug. 26 was spent in meetings. Barry attended a meeting and symposium on youth.

The meeting was also attended by 16 other college youths from Cornell University, Harvard, Dartmouth, Middlebury, Georgetown, and George Washington University. Also in attendance was Donald Steighner, president of Pennsylvania College Young Democrats.

Baumann gave a 45-minute presentation to the symposium on his organizations structure, aims, and people in the organization.

"I learned quite a bit from this trip. The youths attending this meeting are not radicals or anything of that sort. They are dedicated to the system, and like myself, are interested in formative ways of change."

"I only wished that many of my constituents could use these means instead of using bombs, and violence," Baumann said, adding, "When I attended a meeting with Senator Muskie at 'The Hill,' he spoke of some talk in the Senate that it was not good for candidates to have student support this year. This is bad, for it turns off youth."

"The voters now may take it out on the candidates that have student support at the polls. This not only discourages youth participation in politics, but also in the party system, and likewise stamps out interest for future years when they (the students) are allowed to vote."

"We must find a means for sincere students and youth to get involved without getting knocked down. This is what we discussed, and at great length, came up with very little, to say the truth."

"But understanding was reached in one aspect. We must get the youth of America involved in their country and its leaders."

Barry returned to St. Mary's College, Orchard Lake, Mich., Sept. 1st, where he is a junior this year.

Advisory Committee forms, sets meetings

The Citizens Advisory Committee of Romulus held its first meeting in the City Council Chambers on Aug. 20 and elected officers. The officers are: Chairman, Robert Plank; Secretary, Florence Allen.

A five-member publicity committee was elected to keep the citizens informed of the advisory committee's actions.

The committee consists of Pat Lucke, Jack Bath, Margaret Duprey, Robert Plank and Florence Allen.

The following agenda was adopted to be followed at all future meetings:

1. Roll Call; 2. Approval of Minutes; 3. Guests (Anyone attending meeting must fill out a 3x5 card stating the area in which they

Bids go to Flint bank

The Citizens Commercial and Savings Bank, Flint, Mich., was the lowest of four bidders that submitted bids for the sale of $1,250,000 in Tax Anticipation notes offered by the Romulus Community School District.

The school board in a special emergency meeting held Aug. 25, approved the bank's interest rate bid of 4.85 percent and awarded the bank the Tax Anticipation notes that mature in April, 1971.

The school district's application to sell the Tax Anticipation notes had been previously approved by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

The proceeds will be used to operate the school system until taxes for the 1970-71 school year are collected.

wish to speak); 4. Committee Chairman Reports; 5. Old Business; 6. New Business; 7. Discussion; and 8. Adjournment.

The committee will be discussing the area south of Van Born Rd., north of the Expressway and west of the C & O Railroad, east of Hannan Rd.

Any citizen concerned with this particular area should attend the meeting to be held tonight at 8 p.m. in the Water Board Building.

The Citizens Advisory Committee has been granted the use of the Water Board Building by city council action on Aug. 25, for the next four (4) weeks.

The committee will keep the residents informed of the areas in the city that will be under review at each weekly meeting.

Agencies cooperate in community survey

Various Romulus agencies and organizations have been working cooperatively with the Romulus Continuing Education Committee to compile a survey form that would gather necessary information for their individual projects.

Working under the guidance of the Federal and State Coordinator, information gathered will benefit the following groups: Family and Neighborhood Services, YWCA Pre-school Nursery, Office of Economic Opportunity, the Community School Director, and the Romulus Board of Education.

Mrs. Loren Burton, Coordinator of Federal and State Programs, reports this should eliminate the usual fall parade of survey takers. Statistics gathered during the "once for all" effort would be available from her office to participating groups.

A unique feature of this year's forms will be the confidential statement of income and family size. Each respondent will be given that portion of the form to complete privately, and to fold and seal. This will insure the respondent that the information will be seen only by the designated authority for statistical purposes.

Field workers will begin making a house-to-house canvas on Thursday, Sept. 3,

Mediator enters negotiations

Negotiations between the Huron School District and the Huron Education Association were terminated Aug. 25 by representatives of the board of education when no agreement could be reached on salary proposals.

The Huron Education Association requested services of the mediator for the district, Richard Terpin, in the hope of reaching a settlement before the scheduled start of school.

The first mediation meeting has been set for 9 a.m. today at the Hannan Road Elementary School.

He reported that the cost of a professional study would be $7,500.

A contribution of $2,500 toward the study was received from the Romulus Progressive Club, Inc., of Romulus. The voluntary donation is to be used for the study or be returned Under township government, Romulus submitted an application for state funds but was turned down for lack of long-range planning on recreational needs and programs.

Martin added that he hoped that Romulus Community School District would contribute to the study.

He reported that the time for sharing in the state water and recreation bond program is around the first of November and urged the city council to act as quickly as possible if it wished to procure the available funds (based on population).

Council's immediate action was to grant Martin's request and it authorized the hiring of Parkins & Rogers Associates of Detroit, to draft a master recreation plan for the city such contract not to exceed $7,500.

NEW MERRIMAN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL — Romulus Community Schools' newest school - the Merriman Elementary School shown above will be opened Sept. 8. Located on Merriman Rd., south of Ecorse Rd., the new school facility has 20 classrooms. The school's attendance area will be made of portions of Mt. Pleasant and Harrison Elementary Schools' attendance areas. The school was built at the cost of $850,000 and financed by funds from a 1968 Building and Site Fund approved by the voters in the amount of $3,400,000.

'Still our questions are unanswered'

To The Editor:

To the president of People for Huron from the president of the Huron Township Citizens Committee.

The single group who has thrown much criticism at the Huron school board consists of many parents and taxpayers in Huron Township. In fact this group was large enough to unseat two board members in the last election. As of right now we are the majority but still our questions are unanswered.

Dr. Kromer we realize is an employee but the fact remains he was hired to complete the scheduling program. For an additional $1,500 he would have finished by September.

We know it was not meant to be a cost-saving program but, as it turned out, his program saved our school district thousands of dollars. Just think what that man could have done had he been allowed to complete this project. Is your group against saving money?

We are pleased the "People For Huron" is in agreement with us on Mrs. Wisley's program. This should make it easy to pass the Curriculum Council. All we have to do is make sure we do not allow what parents consider "Hippy Rooms" to exist and the money will be available. The pupil-teacher ratio was very high in that room if our memory serves us well.

As for the comment on the Aug. 12, letter, Yes, Mr. Pershing, we feel God will say "well done". We have the same ideas and goals as a group of parents who have formed throughout Michigan called The Motored Committee. This means Movement to Restore Decency.

We believe God gave us our children to train and, to their minds and more, we believe there is more to life than sex, pot and destruction, which seems to be the theme of life today.

The guidelines the State has given us to follow proves our lobbying in Lansing paid off. We have a chance now.

It is true our secretary is not from Huron Township but she is a member of Motored and therefore she qualifies. Our attorney also is not from Huron Township but he will still represent us.

The question, Mr. Pershing, where does our superintendent live? For someone who has no roots in this township he has an awful lot to say about our children.

Secretary says: yes, I'm out of town

To The Editor:

To the president of the People for Huron from the secretary of the Huron Township Citizens Committee.

In answer to your question Mr. President. Yes I am from out of your township but, I was hired by the Huron Township Citizens Committee to help them out.

Is there a law saying I have to be from a certain area to get a job? If there is a law existing then this would be called discrimination.

I hope I have cleared up

Since the last election some of our new board members have been told they are running with the wrong crowd.

Does that mean the people with every day common problems or people that are poverty stricken? Who is the wrong crowd?

The parents who want decency for their children, the people who don't have a big title in front of their name—are they the wrong crowd?

The people that are fighting Sex Education and Sensitivity Training in the schools, are they the wrong crowd? If they are the wrong crowd then they are the majority of parents.

Are the parents of Huron Township aware that the family living mobile unit was given permission to park on school property. Are you aware of the type of program this would have permitted our young girls to take part in.

Complaints were made by the parents to two school board members. After checking they found girls sixteen and older would have been allowed to have the "Pill," without parents knowledge. Is this what your group wants for our youth? Can you honestly say that you feel all is well in our schools when so many angry parents have been trying to be heard at the board meetings. If so, you have had your eyes and ears closed at these meetings.

The school board receives many ideas favorable at the board meetings but, they never do anything about them. You should know—we see you at almost every meeting.

Each individual is entitled to his opinion and has the right to express it. This is what makes America so great.

Huron superintendent answers questions

To The Editor:

In the Aug. 26 edition of the Romulus Roman, the Huron Citizens' Committee raised several questions in regard to the policies of the Huron School District.

I would first like to comment that the board of education has addressed itself to the problem of up-dating its policies so that they once again become operational.

Many of their policies are contrary to existing school law, master agreements or contracts made since the adoption of the policies.

The board has recognized this great need and established a special work session for the first Monday of each month to develop its policies. I, for one, find no fault with the board for the current condition of the policies. This district has undertaken a massive building program which needed the full attention of the board.

The following answers to many of the questions raised in the Romulus Roman may be helpful to the citizens of the Huron School District.

In regard to the question regarding to secure the best possible means of instruction by providing qualified executives and teachers, suitable school buildings, equipment and supplies. Two questions were asked.

One in regard to the lack of supplies in our schools. The current situation, state wide, in education, finds many schools lacking many of the things to provide the program they would like. It simply is a financial item. The proper question here would be, are the citizens' of Huron

School District willing to pay additional millage to provide more teachers and more supplies? It is highly possible that you have the opportunity to answer that question should the state fail to reform its educational financing.

The second question asked was in regard to censoring material the public is to receive. I know of no case where material to our public has been censored and I would ask those who are aware of any such situations to state them specifically.

Next, questions asked were in regard to board meetings to be held in the Huron Elementary School the first and third Tuesdays of each month. This policy is contrary to Michigan School Law.

The School Law states that the district shall hold one meeting per month on a regular basis. Our attorney has advised us that we should follow the law. The school code also says that the district should set the time and place of its meetings at its annual organizational meeting held in July. The board has always followed this law.

A question was asked in regard to the policy stating the Superintendent shall be contracted for a period not to exceed five years. Again this provision is contrary to Michigan School Law. Fourth class school districts may employ superintendents under a contract not to exceed three years.

The question was asked why the superintendent's contract was renewed this past spring, just prior to the election of new board members. Actually, the action did not take place just prior to the election of the new board members. It took place in February after it was postponed for a decision by the board when a member was absent from the January meeting when the situation is normally discussed and action taken. This has been the on-going practice of the board of education and in no way was it related to the school board election.

Other questions were raised in regard to selection of books in the school, courses of study. Again as the board reviews its policies I would hope that they would develop one which provides a vehicle to handle citizen's objections to material in use in the school. There are many materials in a school which may not be personally reviewed by the superintendent or the board of education.

For example, our high school library contains some 7,000 volumes. Other large collections exist in each elementary school and the junior high school. It would be a rather impossible task for any one individual to spend his time reviewing each.

Therefore, this function is often delegated to those best qualified to make those decisions. The question is not whether such materials may be purchased from time to time which are objectionable to a few individuals but rather those which are out of keeping with society.

While the policies adopted and in operation for the Huron School District are generally good policies, it must be remembered that many of them are now contrary to law and other existing agreements. Therefore, they are badly in need of revision.

It would be much more productive for citizens of the school district to be concerned with what policies are developed in the revision than trying to match the performance of the school district now to the policies which do not fit the times.

People of the community, vitally interested in the development of policies should bear in mind, that to do the job properly the board undoubtedly will devote the entire year to this very important job. A great deal of patience is necessary on the part of all.

DRAIN CONDITIONS BRING PROTESTS — Current conditions of the Hale Creek Drain, which runs through the Emerald Green and Diamond Pointe Subdivisions in Romulus, has prompted numerous complaints by area residents and an official hearing before Romulus City Council Aug. 25. Above are two views of the drain showing its present condition. Council has promised the residents immediate action.

Hale Creek Drain raises citizens' ire

For the past three years, the residents of Emerald Green and Diamond Pointe Subdivisions in Romulus have been trying to get the Wayne County Drain Commission and IBoard of Health to service the Hale Creek Drain which runs through the middle of this area.

Hale Creek Drain is a public hazard. Examples cited by residents were:

Homes bordering the drain on Leroy and California Sts., are experienced soil erosion which is reducing the size of their backyards.

Water rats infest the debris-filled drain, and often are found around the garbage receptacles of nearby homes.

It is a natural breeding area for mosquitos - as one resident remarked, "the 727 size mosquito".

It is a lure to children from the area, as evidenced by the number of times the chain link fence has been torn down and repaired.

Parents are fearful, that if this drain is not serviced regularly, an epidemic of infectious Hepatitis could sweep through their area, and ultimately the entire community of Romulus, with tragic results.

In 1968 and 1969, the township of Romulus notified Wayne County of these conditions and requested action. The request was obviously ignored.

Prompted by the Romulus school board's decision to make the new Merriman Elementary School, a neighborhood school and requiring the children to walk, the residents appealed to the city council Aug. 25 for help.

The Council was openly appalled when pictures were presented showing the existing conditions.

In addition, the residents requested a review of the streets for additional safety signs, such as Stop, Yield Residential Speed Limit and School signs. Another request was made for street lighting.

The Council and Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael promised immediate attention to these problems.

The mayor stated that Detroit Edison Co., is about to start a complete review of lighting on all streets in Romulus.

The council by unanimous vote directed Chuck Helman of Wade, Trim & Associates, city engineer, to make a study and prepare a recommendation to solve the Hale Creek Drain situation.

Beverly PTA sets luncheon

A "Welcome Back to School" luncheon has been planned by the Beverly Elementary School PTA, Romulus, under the leadership of Perry Gray, president.

Stated for Tuesday, Sept. 8, at noon, the affair will precede by one day the actual opening of school for the children.

Teachers will be in the building, and according to Gray, there will be an opportunity for parents and teachers to become acquainted and to meet their new principal, Terrel LaCesne.

Tickets for the event are now on sale from any PTA officer at $1.50 each. Proceeds will be used for the PTA treasury.

A baby-sitting service will be provided by the members of Mrs. Horace Stevens' Girl Scout troop.

Romulus wins grant

A presentation by the Romulus Continuing Education Committee to the State Department of Education won a $40,000 grant with an "exemplary program" for vocational training of out-of-school youth, announced Mrs. Lorena Burton, coordinator of federal and state programs. They were chosen from a field of 26 competitors.

An exemplary project is an intensive, innovative, educational effort designed to serve as a model for vocational-technical programs.

The Romulus program will attempt to assist a large number of young people who are not currently in school, to complete their high school work, upgrade their skills through vocational training, and to extend the services and facilities of the district beyond the regular school day.

Labor Day 1970: time to take stock

Labor Day marks the end of summer vacations and the beginning—at least psychologically—of a new work year. It's a good time for taking stock of where we are and where we want to go.

Labor Day in many areas is also the last day of students' summer vacation. Students, too, must take time next Monday to review their goals. Thinking about the future is more important now than ever before.

Our changing times require more of our citizens, and the future is bound to be an exciting time—an exciting time if we are prepared.

Aside from the war in Indochina, the American people seem most concerned about continued inflation, the threat of recession and what to do about it all.

President Nixon has called for greater production as a means of countering both threats. He's created a special commission to make a study of the need for higher productivity and ways to achieve it.

The key, of course, is held by the people who actually do the work. Greater productivity means more goods in the market place; more goods mean lower prices; lower prices mean more sales, more jobs—and eventually—higher wages that aren't inflationary.

But it all must start with a determination on the part of each of us to work harder to produce more efficiently.

Public officials forum

New laws abound as session wraps up

By EDWARD MAHALAK
State Representative, 38th District

With the work of the 75th Legislature virtually completed...we will return Sept. 15 for what hopefully will be a windup session...a steady stream of bills which cleared both House and Senate are being signed into law by the Governor.

At last count, the 1970 legislative year had produced 197 new public acts and one local act which affects just one specific area. There have been seven bills vetoed...one House bill and six Senate bills.

There were several acts which strengthened Michigan's labor laws. One of them increased the state minimum wage, which had been at an unsatisfactory $1.25 an hour. Based on a 40-hour week, that is only $50 per week.

The new law increased this to $1.45 an hour on last July 1. On July 1, 1971, the minimum wage will automatically rise to $1.60 an hour.

An earlier 1970 public act provided for across-the-board increases in unemployment compensation rates. They were raised by between $7 and $11 a week, depending on the number of dependents.

Another law takes advantage of federal legislation to both expand the types of workers covered by unemployment compensation and extend the benefits for unemployed workers who have exhausted their regular 26 weeks of compensation payments. These extended benefits would be made available in times of high unemployment, such as the present.

Under this legislation, the state and federal governments would share the costs of the extended benefits.

Still another recently signed public act strengthens the State's construction safety laws. It sets out more clearly penalties for violation of the law and makes other improvements in the areas of coverage exemptions and exclusion of employers.

The Legislature also took action to establish Oakland University, which was created as a branch of Michigan State University, into an independent institution. It is felt that this autonomous status will further stimulate the growth, development and service capabilities of this fast maturing university.

The Legislature this year recognized the substantial needs of local education by passing the largest state school aid bill in history, close to $1 billion. The same bill also provided for some limited state aid to non-public schools. Before this can become effective, however, the State Supreme Court must rule on its constitutionality.

There have been two noteworthy educational reform measures enacted into law. One of them established a statewide program of assessment of educational progress, the followup development of remedial programs in reading and mathematics, and the establishment of vocational education demonstration program dealing with computer counseling techniques.

The other establishes a State Neighborhood Education Center Authority, appointed by the Governor, for the development of locally-operated educational programs for school dropouts. These neighborhood education centers will offer and encourage additional education for dropouts.

An appropriations bill which is now law sets aside $4.56 million for planning and construction of 15 projects at 13 community colleges.

Another new law requires uniform tuition rates per semester credit in all Michigan community colleges, effective in July 1971.

Pollution: What can I do?

Much is being said and written about air and water pollution these days.

But unfortunately not enough is being done about it on an individual basis. So say some of our current national anti-pollution news reports.

Many private citizens often ask what they as individuals can do to help fight pollution.

One answer to their question, in our opinion, is to keep and maintain clean and beautiful (within financial means) home sites and obedience to area regulations on the proper disposal of refuse.

It is irksome to many homeowners, who expend funds and work hours on beautification programs then to have in their neighborhood careless and neglectful property owners who permit their properties to become eyesores.

Both state and federal governments have recently enacted corrective programs and in some areas laws setting up penalties for those who pollute.

An excellent example of caring about water and air pollution is the current program of the Huron Valley Conservation Association and the Belleville Jaycees.

In recent weeks they have joined forces in a clean-up program of Belleville Lake and vicinity. Their cooperative efforts have resulted in several boat loads of debris being removed from the lake in the form of discarded beer bottles and cans and other discards.

Similar efforts are being made in other adjacent areas.

It was refreshing to note the other day several youngsters picking up paper thrown on residential property. It is a good beginning.

The Romulus Progressive Club, Inc., a non-profit organization headed by Elmer Johnson, has made many volunteer contributions to various community-wide programs of improvement and development in Romulus without much fanfare.

The club's latest contribution was a $2,500 check to aid in financing a professional and recreational study in Romulus.

By HENRY CANTIN

The check was presented to Chairman DuWayne Martin of Romulus Recreation Commission. When the city council was officially informed of the contribution, it approved a request by the recreation commission to engage the firm of Parkins & Rogers Associates of Detroit, planning consultants, to start on a master recreation plan for Romulus.

The Romulus Progressive Club is a staunch supporter of recreation for the city and has again proved its support by its latest contribution.

An interesting State-Wide Meeting of drug abuse is scheduled at the Civic Center, Lansing, on Sept. 30.

The president of the Michigan PTA has called nearly 250,000 PTA members throughout the state to the meeting.

The conference is planned in response to the many questions and requests for help from parents all over the state during the past year, concerning drug abuse among our youth. We urge attendance.

Our readers write

'People for Huron' hit committee

To The Editor:

Here we go again. It's a broken record.

The Huron Citizens Committee (the secretary still resides in Monroe County, Airport School District) is again screaming for their demands to be met.

They want Mr. Byron Antcliff, the Superintendent, to leave the district and they want their favorite board members to negotiate for the teachers contract.

There would be a conflict of interest with a mother, who is a board member, negotiating for her daughter's contract.

They want no sex education taught in the Huron School District. This would eliminate three things—the film on menstruation, a discussion of venereal disease, and a portion of the Family Living Class.

The State of Michigan Board of Education does have something to say about this. They have handed down guidelines and the district should follow them.

The problem seems to be the parents who are concerned are the ones who needed the sex education when they were in school.

According to the last issue of this paper, there is a great problem with the policies of the Huron School District Board of Education. We would agree.

The Huron Board of Education has continually updated its policies by board action at each meeting but has not had the opportunity to sit as a board and discuss and compile them. Their board meetings last until wee hours of the morning. This time is spent in listening to a group of people who love to hear themselves talk about the same subjects over and over again.

According to the Michigan School Board Journal that was so widely quoted from a recent meeting, "a board meeting should not be viewed as a public forum for one and all. Persons who have complaints, but did not petition to be on the agenda, should be allowed to state their case briefly."

The Huron School District needs an updated written policy, but that day will surely not come until the board is allowed to get about their business.

Can't stand liberal in governor's chair

To The Editor:

In Lansing Highlights of Aug. 19, we see a wave of candor in politics approaching. Sander Levin is supposed to be a leading exponent of candor. That may well be but look at how he looks at crime, drugs, gun control, and other issues.

One thing this state can't stand is a true liberal in the governor's chair. The first thing Levin would do is disarm the National Guard and tell any rioters and looters to do their thing.

Tapes remember JFK as he was WALTHAM, MASS.—It is agreeable to discover, in pouring through the taped reminiscences being collected here for the John F. Kennedy library, that they are more than mere accolades from old friends and associates.

Certainly the bouquets are here and the clichés too. ("He was plainly destined for greatness.") All the qualities familiar to the public are

By Charles
Bartlett

cited with many perceptive additions. George Kennan speaks of the late President's "old-fashioned gallantry." A British friend from the earlier days, Dinah Bridges, remembers him as "a mixture of gaiety and thought."

But thanks to the energies committed to taping over 800 interviews, John Kennedy is not being passed on to posterity as a flawless knight. He will not be imposed in an idealized version upon generations of schoolboys. The initial tapes give promise in fact that he will be remembered as he was, a specially bright and good-hearted man who taught himself to try very hard.

Ralph Horton remembers him in boarding school as "a very mediocre student" with a flair for writing. They and eleven others were almost expelled from Choate School after the headmaster denounced them as "rotten apples." Horton was never in those years awed by his friend's intellect.

Arthur Krock, meeting the future president as a Harvard undergraduate, judged him to be "a thoughtful boy, so intelligent that he might develop into an intellectual, a professor, or a writer of history." Rep. Richard Bolling (D-Mo.) found him "indecisive" when they first met in the House in 1947.

"For the Kennedys, it is the castle or the outhouse, nothing in between," Joseph Kennedy told Krock in 1960. For John Kennedy, it is now the library and it is good that this candid man, always ready to look facts in the face, will have a candid memorial.

Hopefully the present qualifying criteria will be changed before another year rolls around.

Speaking of schools

School bill benefits Romulus

By ROBERT L. McCONEGHY, Superintendent of Romulus Schools

The financial crisis facing schools has been a forefront news item for months. Much time has been spent trying to convince those with legislative responsibility of the proper solution.

The recent State School Aid Act, Act No. 100, Public Acts of 1970, passed by the legislature and signed by the governor, does provide more money for schools. It also insured that no district would receive a smaller net allowance per membership pupil for 1970-71 than was received by the district for the 1969-70 school year.

Romulus is one of the districts which will benefit from this so-called "great-grandfather" clause in the act.

On the surface this looks good, however, Romulus will receive less aid from the state during 1970-71 than during 1969-70.

During the past school year, Romulus received approximately $71,000 in state aid under Section III of the 1969-70 State Aid Act.

The purpose of Section III was to provide money, to those districts qualifying, for the improvement of pupil achievement through a reduction of the pupil-adult classroom ratio, and through the purchase of instructional, technological and curriculum materials.

Target schools were certified and qualified by the degree of cultural and economic deprivation of children living within the attendance area of the individual schools within the district.

Romulus had three schools which qualified for Section III funds: Beverly, Gordonier and Romulus elementary schools.

As a result of this aid, the district was not only able to provide additional supplies and equipment for these schools, but also hire additional para-professionals to reduce the pupil-adult ratio in classrooms in order that students could receive more individual guidance and counseling in all necessary instructional and special tutoring areas.

The in-service training of these para-professionals was contracted through Eastern Michigan University.

Over 600 students in these three schools benefited by this program—and it was successful.

With the enactment of the 1970-71 state act, however, Romulus no longer qualifies for aid under Section III, as the Senate saw fit to re-write the criteria necessary for qualification.

One major change involved the achievement scores of students on the state-wide testing program carried out last spring.

The success of Romulus students was one of the factors which eliminated the district for further Section III monies.

The loss of this program cannot help but have a negative reaction upon all those involved. Teachers, parents, students and administrators were enthused about the program; were convinced of its success and were planning on its continuance.

Hopefully the present qualifying criteria will be changed before another year rolls around.

Romulus introduces school program

The Romulus Community Schools Continuing Education Committee (RCSCEC) introduced their new and comprehensive Community School Program last Monday night.

The committee met with community leaders, PTA officers, citizens, the Policy Advisory Council and other agencies of the Romulus area to inform them of their programs and enlist their aid.

The presentation was the culmination of several years of study and planning by the Policy Advisory Council, under the leadership of Mrs. Theora Cass.

The RCSCEC, a sub-committee of the council, has devoted the past eight months to the organization of specific areas in order to begin classes during September.

On March 23, chairmen of both the council and committee met with the Romulus Board of Education and the Federal and State Coordinator, to outline a Community Education program that would feature a branch of the Wayne County Community College, Adult Basic Education, High School Completion (GED), as well as vocational, recreational and enrichment programs.

Pursuant to the Community School concepts adopted by the Board of Education in 1965, the plan was approved with the understanding that it would be implemented this fall.

Monday night's meeting was to organize for implementation and to report on two new developments: a new program for out-of-school youth was explained. Funded through the State Department, it was awarded to Romulus as an "Exemplary Program" through the department of Research and Development.

Dale Nicholas, Community-School director, was introduced, his duties and responsibilities were outlined to the group.

It was explained that the director's salary was provided through various state and federally funded programs for which Romulus has qualified. They have also received a Community Education grant from Eastern Michigan University that contributes to a Directors position. It was emphasized that local millage was not used for any of the Community School Programs.

Due to the need to impart information to the people of Romulus concerning the various clauses, so that registration may be completed by Sept. 14 and, equally important, in order to gather information to qualify further for funded programs, a community-wide survey was submitted.

Mrs. Fran Petre and Mrs. Geneva Clark recruited volunteers to assist in the survey. A training session was scheduled and a target date of Sept. 11 was established.

Only 156 children attend Rubella clinic

Miss Janice Moore, Health Educator for the Wayne County Department of Health, has reported that only about 14 per cent of the children of the four-community area served by the Aug. 4 Rubella clinic, attended the clinic session.

The health department had estimated that in the City of Romulus, Van Buren, Sumpter and Huron Townships there were approximately 1,100 children who would be entering school for the first time this fall and eligible for the immunization.

However, only 156 children actually received the shot. Forty per cent participation had been expected.

A spokesman for the health department attributed the low attendance to a lack of awareness of the nature of Rubella, a potential cause of birth defects if a pregnant woman contracts the disease in early pregnancy.

Another reason cited was that many parents were not aware that Rubella inoculations are now required by law for children entering school for the first time, except when the parent or guardian signs papers that immunization violates religious beliefs.

Although the Rubella Clinic will not be repeated, parents may still bring their children to the Wayne County Health Department on Merriman Rd., north of Michigan Ave., where immunization clinics are regularly scheduled for both children and adults.

Daytime clinics charge a $1 fee, and $2 for evening sessions. A free clinic is offered daytime each fourth Wednesday of the month for children one through 18 years.

Clinic hours are as follows: Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday—9 to 11:30 a.m.; Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday—1 to 3:30 p.m.; Wednesday evening—7 to 9 p.m.

For an appointment call 721-0200 or 274-2800, extension 6891 or 6892.

Romulus okays pact

A Master Contract for teacher employment at the Romulus Community Schools during the 1970-71 school year has been approved by the school district's Board of Education, Robert L. McConeghy, school superintendent, announced.

The contract, covering 250 teachers, will be presented to the teachers on Tuesday, Sept. 8 for ratification.

The teachers are to report for orientation on Sept. 8.

Terms of the contract were withheld pending teacher ratification, William Jakad, assistant school superintendent and chief negotiator for the school board, said.

The negotiators representing the school board and the Romulus Education Association reached agreement at the first session held before a mediator from Michigan's Office of Labor Relations Commission held Aug. 14 at the Board of education offices.

Negotiations on a new Master Contract began last April. The present contract expired Aug. 14.

Saksewski - Slavick vows repeated in Ypsilanti

Bridal attendants in green preceded Sherrie Lynn Slavick to the altar of St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Ypsilanti as she approached, escorted by her father, to become the bride of Stanley F. Saksewski.

Some 200 guests were assembled for the Aug. 29 twilight wedding ceremony presided over jointly, by the Rev. Sidney S. Rood and Father Skoney of St. Anthony's Church of Belleville.

For the double ring service, Diane Rowe, a friend of the bride's played the organ.

For her wedding day, Sherrie selected an A-line, floor-length gown of lace over satin. Fitted lace sleeves accented the bodice and a satin train trimmed in lace fell from her shoulders.

Her silk illusion veil, caught to petal-shaped headdress of silk and pearls, cascaded to the fingertips and she carried a bouquet of carnations and roses.

The bride's sister, Colleen Slavick of Belleville, was maid of honor. Others in the bridal coterie were Lori and Allison Slavick, and Mrs. William Bashforth, all sisters of the bride; Gail Saksewski, sister of the groom; and Mary Clapp, all of Belleville.

Identically attired except for color, their gowns were A-line satin frocks. The maid of honor's was a mint green, the others were avocado green. All carried bouquets of yellow mums.

Kimberly Bashforth was her aunt's flowergirl and the groom's godson, Michael Sliwa, served as ringbearer.

Tree to aid Christmas

A new five-needled limber pine from the mountains of Arizona, Texas and New Mexico may bolster the Michigan Christmas tree industry.

The pine, discovered as a result of research begun at Michigan State University in 1960, has good foliage density, color and growth rate -- often exceeding that of eastern white pine.

According to MSU scientists, Michigan growers could get marketable trees from limber pine nursery stock in six to eight years.

Kiwanis plan travel series

The Belleville Kiwanis Club is presenting its first "Travel and Adventure Series" which will include six nationally known adventurers and explorers who are artists in the travelogue field.

They appear on such major platforms as: National Geographic, Washington, D.C.; Town Hall, New York; Orchestra Hall, Chicago; and Town Hall, San Francisco.

Each is a professional photographer with many years experience in traveling and filming the many beautiful and interesting places around the world. These personally filmed, all-color motion pictures are especially popular because the man who shot the picture, appears on the stage, in person, and narrates his film.

In addition to the thrilling motion pictures and the personal narration, many of the travelogues include a musical background and special sound effects for added enjoyment and realism.

Each member of the family, young and old, enjoys the travelogues for they are wholesome entertainment, educational and adventurous. Everyone has the urge to travel but only a few satisfy that desire.

By attending the "Travel and Adventure Series" there is a joy and thrill in visiting those far-away places, such as these included for next season: Norway, Canada, Florida, Scotland, Rocky Mountains and Japan.

A season ticket for all six travelogues is offered at the low price of $3 for students, $4 for senior citizens, and $6 for adults.

Each ticket holder will have the satisfaction of knowing that the profit from the series will enable the Belleville Kiwanis Club to continue its work on community projects.

To acquaint the public with the series, a travelogue will be presented free of charge on Thursday, Oct. 1, in the new and beautiful Belleville High School Auditorium promptly at 8 p.m.

Stan and Irene Paulauskas will present a travel and adventure series on "Exploring Poland". Everyone is invited to attend this free introductory program.

Sixteen-year-old Franklyn Flock, Jr. of the "Romulus Western Riders" 4-H Club took two state championships last week at the State 4-H Horse Show at East Lansing on the campus of Michigan State University.

"Corky" and his registered Quarter Horse gelding "Tuffy T. McCue," were named 1970 Senior Reining 4-H Champions of Michigan. However, Corky and his horse are no newcomers to this honor, since they also took the Junior Reining 4-H Championship in both 1967 and 1968.

At State 4-H Show last week, Franklyn also took the State Championship in the Senior Fitting and Showmanship competition. In Senior Horsemanship, Corky was named to the top five in his class.

After leaving East Lansing, Corky and his Quarter Horse, Tuffy T. McCue, immediately departed for the Michigan State Fair in Detroit where they are now competing.

Carla Hay, 14, of the "Romulus Western Riders" had to relinquish her place on the State Horse Show team from Wayne County this year since she and her purebred Arabian gelding, "C'est La Vie," are preparing for competition in the Nationals at Oklahoma City, Sept. 3 through 7.

At the recent Wayne County 4-H Fair, Corky earned the following: top blue rosette in Registered Quarter horse fitting and showmanship (boys 15 and over); top blue rosette in Reining Class; and a fourth white rosette in Western Horsemanship (boys 15 and over).

All of the "Western Riders" report a very successful week at the County 4-H Fair (Aug. 18 through 23).

Carla Hay, 14, scored a perfect 48 score with her purebred gelding "C'est La Vie" and was named Western Grand Champion for 1970 in both the Junior and Senior age division. Her name will be engraved on the Linda Hershey Memorial trophy, which Carla will retain for one year, at which time she will receive a smaller trophy to keep.

Carla received a first place blue rosette ribbon in her classes: fitting and showing at halter, pleasure and horsemanship.

Carla and Corky Flock were named to the State

Show Horse Team, although Carla had to relinquish her place this year because of national competition. It was Carla's third consecutive year to be named for this honor; while Corky competed this year for the fourth time.

On her conservation project, Carla earned the top "Best of Show" trophy and her display "Vanishing Birds of Michigan" was selected for exhibit at State Show. She earned a blue ribbon on her "Junior Miss" Clothing Display, at the Wayne County 4-H Fair.

James Morris, 16, is showing his registered Quarter Horse mare "Jenny Todd" at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit this week.

At the 4-H Fair, James earned the following in the horse project: Quarter Horse fitting and showing (boys 15 and over), small blue; Quarter Horse western pleasure (boys 15 and over), fifth place rosette; Quarter Horse Western horsemanship (boys 15 and over), 6th place rosette.

James earned a blue ribbon in Junior Leadership for his interview and notebook. In photography he received a red ribbon. James completed the Citizenship Short Course and took the trip to Washington, D.C. this year, and also completed the 4-H Snowmobile project.

Thomas Madej, 15, showed his grade mare "Lady June" at the County 4-H Fair and earned the following: Western Fitting and Showmanship, (boys 15 years and over), third place rosette; Pleasure (boys 15 and over) red ribbon and Western Horsemanship (boys 15 and over), red ribbon.

Kathleen Hood, 17, was awarded small blue ribbons in each of her three horse project events, Western fitting and showmanship (boys and girls 15 years and over); Western pleasure (girls 15 and over); and Western horsemanship (girls 15 years and over).

She showed a 3/4 Arab, "Marzed." Kathy also took the Citizenship Short Course and made the Washington D.C. trip.

Gerald Diepenhorst, 13, showed a grade mare, "Velvet Lady" and earned a second place rosette in Western Fitting and Showmanship (boys 14 and under). In Western pleasure and Western horsemanship (both boys 14 and under) he received small red ribbons.

Fred Hay Jr., 19, and his Quarter Horse gelding, "Kid's Lit'l Dude", took a sixth place rosette in Western Pleasure; a small blue in Quarter Horse western Horsemanship, and a small red in Quarter Horse Western fitting and showmanship. Fred, who will be accompanying his younger sister, Carla, to the Nationals at Oklahoma City this week, will be a freshman at Western Michigan University this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Hay are leaders of the Western Riders 4-H Club. Project leaders are Mrs. Margie Herrmann, horse; Mrs. Pearl Varner, conservation.

Census appeal

Mayor Smith asked family members and others who lived in the city on or before April 1, 1970 and did not fill out a Census Form, or were not questioned by a census taker to contact the city clerk's office.

A renewed appeal to Belleville residents who may have been missed in the 1970 federal census count was issued Monday by Mayor Royce E. Smith and city council.

The mayor pointed out that the city will lose $3,000 in rebates of Michigan Sales Tax, gasoline tax, tangible and liquor taxes over the next ten years for persons missed in the census.

Trucks with crops need state plates

Kenneth Tannar, department marketing division chief, said grower organizations, packers and truckers are reminded that "you must have a Michigan commercial license on your truck to haul intrastate."

The problem is most evident now, as the fresh produce season in Michigan gets into full swing. Tannar expressed concern that any delays during shipment of perishable fruits and vegetables, caused by misunderstanding of the licensing requirements, could be costly for consumers, growers and packers.

Commercial trucks hauling Michigan fruits and vegetables to markets within the state must have Michigan license plates.

Telethon needs workers

Detroit Mayor Roman S. Gribbs, tri-county chairman of this year's Jerry Lewis Telethon for Muscular Dystrophy, has issued a call for Telethon volunteers in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Gribbs, who will appear on the Telethon himself, said that over 500 volunteers are needed to answer phones and record pledges during the 20-hour televised show this Labor Day weekend.

Phone centers will be set up in Northland, Eastland and Westland shopping centers to accommodate area volunteers working in four-hour shifts between 9:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 6, and 5:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 7.

The Telethon, which raised $135,503 in the Detroit area last year, will be seen again this year on WKBD-TV, Channel 50, beginning at 9:30 p.m.

Volunteers may sign up for the hours and location most convenient to them by calling 341-9203.

Detection program will aid diabetics

Final figures on the 1969 diabetes detection program of the Michigan Diabetes Association (MDA), a United Fund service, have just been released.

Of the 14,004 persons tested in blood-screening programs, 2,041 were referred to their physician for further evaluation. Of these, 230 were found to have diabetes, 176 were listed by their physician as being potentially diabetic, and 1,064 were listed as non-diabetic. Another 198 were known to be diabetic previously and 373 did not reply.

Dr. James J. Aiuto of Grosse Pointe, chairman of the MDA's Diabetes Detection Committee, reports that future testing programs will be aimed at locating the high-risk segment of the population.

"We are interested," he said, "in especially testing those persons who are over forty years old, overweight, blood relatives of diabetics, and mothers who have given birth to babies weighing more than nine pounds. These people are the ones most likely to have diabetes and we want to find them."

Dr. Aiuto estimated that

Michigan has over 100,000 persons who have diabetes and don't know it. He said that diabetes is rapidly increasing and now ranks as a major health problem. It is also fast becoming the leading cause of blindness in the United States.

Neglected diabetes can also lead to cardio-vascular and kidney disease, he said. Therefore, it is important to

Export vice-president leaves Kerr Company

Russell E. Nelson, president of Kerr Manufacturing Co., a division of Sybron Corporation, has announced the retirement of Berrien C. Ketchum.

Ketchum, whose resignation was effected Aug. 31, joined Kerr in 1936.

He served in various capacities and in 1945 he was appointed a vice president and a member of the board of directors as well as secretary to the company.

In 1959 he assumed the responsibility of the export department and has functioned as vice president of export since that date.

Last November, 47 Michigan hospitals joined with the MDA in sponsoring free detection programs. This year the association is hopeful that double that number will participate in mass blood-screening programs during Diabetes Detection Week, Nov. 15-21.

Export vice-president leaves Kerr Company

First, he was extremely instrumental in coordinating the purchase of an appropriate land site and also the construction of the modern 200,000 square foot Kerr facility in Romulus.

Second, in August, 1970, Kerr was honored by being presented with President Nixon's Export "E" Award which recognized the company's success in promoting the sale of United States products overseas.

Punt, pass kick

Registrations for the 1970 Punt, Pass & Kick competition will be taken through Sept. 26, at Ford dealerships in the Detroit metropolitan area and throughout Michigan.

Punt, Pass & Kick is in its 10th year under the co-sponsorship of the National Football League and the Ford dealers of America. It has attracted over 6,219,000 boys, ages 8 to 13, in that time, and participation this year is expected to top 1,250,000.

Participants in the Punt, Pass & Kick program compete only against boys their own age. Any boy is eligible and can register at a participating Ford dealership. There is no entry fee.

There is no body contact during competition and no special equipment is needed. Participation does not impair a boy's amateur standing.

Twelve national finalists will compete for the championships in their age group during the half-time of the NFL Playoff Bowl game in Los Angeles, Jan. 24.

Winners will have their names permanently enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

Zodiac tells advent of fall

LANSING—Signs of the Zodiac foretell the advent of Michigan's autumnal face. Slowly, gently the first hint of autumn arrives on the shores of the upper peninsula in a montage of hues and tones, then explodes into a wild array of brilliant color. The landscape of both peninsulas is quickly transformed into a magnificent panorama of eye-dazzling beauty with its rainbow-like foliage.

County Color Tour beginning in Gladwin on Oct. 11 and a Color Cruise at Charlevoix, Oct. 11.

Preceding autumn's outburst are two traditional events scheduled for the Labor Day weekend. A re-enactment of the landing of Father Marquette, "The Black Gown Tree Pageant", will be performed at St. Ignace, Sept. 4-6, and on Sept. 7 is the annual five-mile walk across the Mackinac Bridge spanning Michigan's two peninsulas. Pedestrians are permitted to walk the bridge on only one day each year—Labor Day.

Among the color-oriented activities included in the calendar are the Autumn Color Festival at Bellaire, Oct. 9-11; the Gladwin Michigan communities have scheduled a wide variety of activities for September travelers. There is the Parade of Nations Fall Festival in St. Louis, Sept. 9-12; an Oktoberfest at Mt. Clemens, Sept. 11-27; the Historic Home Tour in Marshall, Sept. 12-13; and Snowmobile Drag Races in Ishpeming, Sept. 13.

The colorful month of October is teeming with local events offering something for everyone. Included in the calendar are Red Flannel Day in Cedar Springs, Oct. 3; the Marquette County Harvest Festival at Marquette Oct. 8-10; the Winter Sports Show at the Artillery Armory in Detroit, Oct. 17-25; and the Fine Arts Festival in Lansing, Oct. 25-Nov. 1.

In November, Michigan vacationers can choose from such events as the Red Coat Roundup in Grayling, Nov. 14-16, and the Automobile Show at Cobo Hall in Detroit, Nov. 21-29.

Michigan's December activities are imbued with an aura of the impending joyous holiday season. The entire family can participate in such events as Christmas Trees Around the World at the Nature Center in Kalamazoo, Dec. 8-27, and Christmas in Greenfield Village, Dearborn, Dec. 11-31. For those who crave excitement in the great outdoors, the place to be is Harrison on Dec. 26 for the Snowmobile Races.

More than 100 community events are on tap in Michigan from September through December. For information about these activities, write for a free copy of the Michigan Calendar of Travel Events, available from the Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan 48926.

Antique session set

DEARBORN—The Midwest Antiques Forum, held annually at Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, embarks on its second decade when it convenes this year Oct. 12 through 16.

The program relates various classes of antiques to aspects of collecting. Participants will learn how to identify antiques, how to care for antiques, how to study and understand them, and how they should be used and displayed in the home.

For additional information or registration forms contact Midwest Antiques Forum, Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Michigan 48121, or call (313) 271-1620, extension 282.

Recognized as the outstanding forum of its kind in the central United States, it also ranks as one of the finest in the nation. Since its beginning in 1959, it has grown both in scope and stature. Registrants have come from all over the country to take part, and its list of distinguished speakers at past Forums is unsurpassed.

This year Village and Museum officials have announced some innovations designed to encourage greater participation by individual registrants. Panel discussions and illustrated lectures by recognized authorities on the theme "Collecting Americana: Know Your Antiques" will be followed by question periods and augmented by guided tours of the Henry Ford Museum's Decorative Arts Galleries and

WSU car leads race

ODESSA, Tex. — A 1971 Mercury Capri entered by Wayne State University continued to lead in points over the weekend in the Intercollegiate Clean Air Car Race, although a 1970 Volkswagen from the University of Michigan was first to complete the fifth leg of the seven-day race here.

The WSU entry, powered by a 302-cubic inch V-8 engine burning lead-sterile gas, even more pure than unleaded gas, has yet to be the first car to complete a leg in the rally-type race to Pasadena, Calif.

But it received 797 of a possible 1,000 points in a performance test two weeks ago in Cambridge, Mass., covering acceleration, braking, noise level and handling in simulated urban driving conditions.

Other areas in which points are awarded are in elapsed time—driving each leg as nearly as possible to the time designated by the race committee—and in "thermal efficiency" or fuel economy, which was tested on the two legs between Ann Arbor and Oklahoma City. A maximum of 1,000 points in each area, or a total of 3,000 is possible.

On the three legs between Cambridge and Champaign, Ill., Wayne State accumulated 327 of 330 points possible. The CACR Chicago Race Information Center still is tabulating later results.

In fuel economy, the maximum 1,000 points is made by getting 25 miles per gallon or better. The WSU Capri averaged between 23 and 24 mpg, according to team member Michael J. Riley of Southgate, a graduate student in the School of Business Administration. This would give WSU between 920 and 960 points, although the Race Information Center still is computing results.

On point totals officially released by the Center as of Friday afternoon, WSU led all entries with 1,124 points, the University of Michigan VW had 840 and another U of M entry, a Chevelle, had 924.

The Wayne State entry tied with two other entries in the emission test at Cambridge and reportedly placed third among internal combustion engines in Detroit testing.

'Comeback contract' helps moviemakers

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—An aging electrician struggles to move a heavy lamp on a movie set. Other men step forward to help him.

Until six months ago, by union rules they too would have had to be electricians. Now they can be propmen or stagehands.

In a crossing of union jurisdictional lines, members of the three unions now can help one another.

This is one of the concessions in a "comeback contract" announced by movie production and union leaders at a news conference last February in Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty's office.

Their goal: to stimulate lagging domestic production in the face of heavy "runaway" to foreign shores, where the lures include exotic locales and financial subsidies.

The "comeback contract" has produced both increased domestic filming and bitter dissension. Twenty-two films that otherwise would not have been made or would have been made abroad have been shot with Hollywood-based crews, either here or TIGER LAIR—Getting down to the business of winning football games are Belleville's first year head coach Keith Emerson (at right) and some 50 Tiger hopefuls. Emerson, former Dearborn Heights' Robichaud High coach who also has coached at Redford Union and in the Upper Peninsula too, over from there is plenty of work to do before kick-off," he said.

Emerson gets down to grid fundamentals as Tigers await debut

By MIKE HENDRICKS

One thing for sure, rookie coach Keith Emerson isn't wasting any time getting his new charges into condition for the up-and-coming football campaign.

Emerson, the former head grid coach at Dearborn Heights' Robichaud, knows too well that the area—especially the Suburban Six Conference—is loaded with plenty of grid talent. And a team will be trampled upon if not ready to meet the challenge.

performances of a host of kids.

The Tiger mentor named several players for putting in an excellent week of practice.

Emerson's list included: Tony Ogletree at fullback, Mike Garland at quarterback, Larry Fix at end, Bill Mida, another end, Bill Myer, a guard, Dan Smith, a linebacker, Steve Billings at center and tackle, Keith Simons.

Emerson was also pleased with the play of the teams returning backfield combination of Dave Remus and Garrade Pettus.

There seems to be a fight looming for the quarterback spot as both Glen Reinhackle and Garland are making a run for the position.

"We got a lot of work to do," said coach Emerson. "Especially on fundamentals. My theory is that a team well drilled in the basics of this game will do well in any league."

In the past Emerson's theory has proven correct. His teams always were ready—but usually lacked the numbers to compete. One can only speculate what he'll do with the Tigers.

Belleville fans will be able to see their 1970 model in action on Sept. 18 when they run up against a greatly improved Wayne Memorial High team.

Wayne will be under the guidance of sophomore coach Wayne Gorman who emerged with a winning season as a rookie—the first in recent years for the Wayneites.

Emerson welcomed his 40 candidates for the varsity squad with running and caesthetics and wind sprints in an effort to mold them into form.

"We have had a real good week of practice," Emerson said. "If we can put another good week together we should be well on the way."

"The first week of practice was limited to familiarizing the players with our offense and defense in addition to working on conditioning. This past week laid the foundations and now it is a matter of polishing up and seeing who will go at what spot."

Emerson noted that it was a little early yet to determine the quality of his football players without seeing them hit. But he said he had been impressed with the

It's 'contact' for Romulus

After a week of running and running and more running, Romulus gridders are ready to get down to business this week as they don pads and begin contact work, the work that molds football teams!

The 80 gridders which have reported to the Eagles have impressed head coach George Pratt with their hustle and enthusiasm.

"So far," Pratt commented, "I have been real pleased with the work and spirit of this bunch. These kids have really been hustling out there.

"This extra week of practice should be a great help to our conditioning program," he said.

The Eagles have been working out in T-shirts, shorts and helmets this past week in an effort to get themselves in condition for the coming season.

Romulus opens against Inkster High School on September 18. That's a nonleague encounter. Conditioning has been the key.

"We have been doing a lot of running," Pratt said. "We hope we can get to all those muscles that haven't been used all summer so that they will be ready by the time we get down to the contact work later this week."

Besides running, Pratt has had his charges going over their offensive formations and running through their blocking patterns in addition to working on their kicking game.

The number of candidates out for the varsity also pleased coach Pratt. He said, "It's a pretty good turnout for this early in the season. I'm anticipating a lot more freshmen to come out once school gets underway though."

Cruises up

Cruises are increasing in popularity among medium income classes, according to Travel Weekly. Tourists are expected to spend an all-time high of $231-million during 1968-69, an increase of $30 million over last year.

The Mc Lain story

By TOM MOORADIAN

"How come you didn't get that ice water treatment from Denny?"

Mrs. W. G. of Westland

"It's very simple, Mrs. W. G. Among other things, I have a degree in physical education. And in order to earn one I had to learn how to box and wrestle . . . and run!"

The Sports Meridian

And, besides, I'm no cry-baby.

Naw, I don't hold it against Denny McLain for what he did to my colleagues, Watson Spoelstra and Jim Hawkins, especially after hearing what Jim Price, Tiger player representative had to say about the entire affair.

Price, in an interview preceding the Sunday Tiger-Oakland game remarked that: "The players almost dared Denny to do it after the pitcher had formulated the idea earlier in the day."

And, gee, Watson and Jim should have been thankful for the bath. It was hot, you know. They should not have run to the Establishment and informed the way they did. After all, it was 90 degrees plus when it happened.

This sure isn't Denny McLain's year.

However, he does have a trump that he hasn't played and when he swats us with it he'll win immortality. Ever heard of "The Denny McLain Story"? It's a movie I'm trying unsuccessfully to write. But someone will—you can bet on that.

Can't you see it now: Young, strong pitcher appears in Detroit in the late sixties after a trade. He proceeds to lead a team that hasn't won an American League pennant or a World Series for over a quarter of a century to the top of the world. He also gained for himself world recognition by winning 30 games.

Enter, heh, heh, heh . . . the underworld. They corrupt him (or visa, versa). His downfall begins. Soon the Commissioner catches on to our star's off diamond activities . . . heh, heh, heh. Soon our hero goes bankrupt. He has to give away his airplane, his organ. Oh, such tragedy.

He's suspended and the fans find themselves an anti-hero.

Near the climax of the movie we have him come off of his suspension and we pack the stadium as our hero pitches.

Oh, yes, the family. We have to do something to cause a breakdown somewhere in our hero's love life.

There— isn't the Denny McLain Story the greatest?

But there is one thing wrong. — We don't know how to finish the story yet. Boo-hoo.

Script is unfinished

John Glenn's one and only head football coach, Bob Lusk, is wondering "where have all the big boys gone?"

Lusk, who built the Glenn football program over the past seven years—since the school's inception—says: "We just don't have any big boys in these parts anymore."

Have you looked in the band, Bob?

Don't look now but Livonia Franklin and North Farmington have scores of 200-pound plus gridders. And that's without the shoulder pads.

And, to all athletic directors in the area: Please send in your football and cross country schedules. We need them. And if there is a new coach on the roster, how about including his telephone number so we can contact him as soon as possible.

Huron line looks good in practice

The first week of practice brought nothing but good news to Huron High School's grid coach, Lee Smeltzer.

Probably the best news Smeltzer got all week was delivered by his linemen. Originally it had been expected that the weak Huron line would hamper the team's over-all performance.

Now, however the situation seems to be changed.

Rawsonville sets record

Employees at Ford Motor Company's Rawsonville Plant have received the Award of Honor—the highest recognition given by the National Safety Council.

The commendation was made for the achievement of 19,017,524 man-hours without a disabling injury from June 16, 1968 to June 13, 1970. This established a "best record" in the National Safety Council automotive electrical equipment category.

The achievement also set a Ford record for manufacturing and assembly operations.

The previous record was held by the Kansas City assembly plant with more than 15-million man-hours.

Breaz at WSU

Former New Boston all-around athlete George Breaz is among the letter-winners returning to Wayne State University's 1970 football squad.

Breaz who earned an All-Area berth in football while at Huron High, is a junior fullback. Some 56 varsity squad members were going through a two-day practice session to get ready for their Sept. 26th opener against Ferris State College.

Belleville Swim Club prospers thanks parents

The Tiger Swim Club, Belleville's entry in AAU swimming has grown from its original two members to a prosperous 37 in the six months of its existence. The club owes much of its success to the interested Belleville swimming parents that have given the organization its full support.

The club's president Bud Susterka, who also is the father of its original two members, has been the organizing force behind the Tiger Swim Club.

In the beginning his two sons, Brad and Barry, both high school swimmers were entering the AAU sponsored swimming meets unattached, but without team sponsorship they found it impossible to enter any of the relay events. This is what motivated Doug Cullin, another parent, to go to the local Kiwanis Club, with a request for sponsorship of an AAU swimming team.

The request met with approval and the Tiger Swim Club became a reality.

Since that time the club has been operating with a monthly dues of $10 per family to meet expenses. This included a coach's salary when the club hired Harold Lonsky, the Willow Run High School swim mentor to handle the coaching duties.

Lonsky started the Tigers on a five days a week practice scheduled which has resulted in a rapid accumulation of trophies and medals.

The team has participated in several AAU meets and though they have never won a team title they have come home with their share of individual awards.

According to Susterka, "The competition in AAU swimming is terrific. The swim club serves a much needed purpose as many of the area's swimmers are already participating in other clubs and Belleville has to keep up."

AAU competition is a year round affair and if any one is interested in joining the team they should call Mr. Susterka at OX 7-6241.

SHOWING HOW IT'S DONE -- William Peterson, noted water skier, and member of the Belleville Lake Ski Club, will be a featured performer at the club's Sept. 6 Water Ski Show on Belleville Lake. Above he is shown demonstrating a high jump using only 12-inch long shoe skis.

Belleville Ski Club promises good show

The Belleville Lake Ski Club will present their second Water Ski Show Sunday, Sept. 6 starting at 3 p.m.

The show will be held on the lake, opposite the water tower, west of Belleville Bridge on High St.

There will be thrills for all to see in the many featured acts scheduled for the show.

The ski club performed during this year's celebration of the Fourth of July by the Belleville community.

There will be a double jump where club member Sue Adam transfers from her skis to the front of her partner, William Peterson, noted water skier, and in this position, they ride over the jump together.

One of the many jumping acts will be two men going over the jump while another skier cuts under them with only inches to spare.

Spectators will also see the club's youngest skier, Herbie

Hoerig riding his ski board accompanied by his two sisters. Also 10-year-old Kevin Gunther going over the jump with time to spare.

The show's clown, Ed Stackwell, will keep you laughing as he tries to copy the skiers with not much success.

The Belleville Lake Ski Club extends a community-wide welcome and promises to put on a good show.

Jobs are down for young people

Jobs for young people were less plentiful this summer than last, the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported.

The total number of 16-21 year-olds employed this summer was 11.2 million, down 210,000 from 1969 and the same as in 1968. At the same time, the youth labor force increased, due mainly to the return of young men from the Armed Forces.

As a result, unemployment among youth rose by 410,000 between this and last summer to 2.1 million, and their unemployment rate rose to 16 percent compared with 13 percent in 1969 and 14 percent in 1968.

In addition to the added number of unemployed young people, there was also a large increase in the number of youth remaining out of the labor market this summer, partly due to discouragement over job prospects.

Although employment of youth in service-producing industries (especially in retail trade) increased substantially from a year ago, the increase was not enough to offset declines in employment from a year ago, the increase was not enough to offset declines in employment in goods-producing industries and government.

Of the 13.3 million 16-21 year-olds in the labor force, approximately 84 percent were employed this summer, compared with 87 percent last year and 86 percent the year before.

Labor Day weekend will be busiest

The busiest single day so far this year on state roads, scarce accommodations at most popular hotels and motels and overcrowded state park campgrounds appear as certainties if this state has warm weather over the upcoming 78-hour Labor Day weekend, Automobile Club of Michigan reported.

Labor Day weekend officially gets underway at 6 p.m. Friday, Sept. 4, and ends at midnight Monday (Labor Day), Sept. 7. Auto Club expects three million vehicles to travel 588 million miles on state highways, up five percent over last year.

"Heaviest traffic day of the year in Michigan to date should be Monday when most weekend vacationers, coho fishermen and cottage owners return families home for school between 2 and 10 p.m.," states Auto Club's touring manager Jerry E. Fisher.

Heavy traffic will be moving slower than usual during this period due to the fact that an estimated one in every seven vehicles will be pulling a trailer, Fisher points out.

A check of major tourist centers across Michigan indicates that this could be one of the busiest Labor Day weekends ever. At Saugatuck, on Lake Michigan, the chamber of commerce reports that although there are always some motels with vacancies, three of its largest are already 100 percent booked. Holland motels report the same.

Traverse City and Petoskey, two other popular Lake Michigan resort cities, report that at the present time most facilities are only 30 to 50 percent booked.

Inland at Cadillac and Houghton Lake, the chambers of commerce reports that facilities are 50 percent booked for the Labor Day weekend.

Gaylord motels are almost all filled now and the word from the chamber of commerce there is "advance reservations are necessary or forget it." Since there are no major tourist events at Gaylord, officials cannot explain why they are booked while nearby cities still have room.

Based on last year's experience, more than 80 percent of the Lower Peninsula's state parks will fill by Friday afternoon (Sept. 4). The 15 state parks within a 90-minute drive of Detroit over last Labor Day were full by 3 p.m. Friday.

Auto Club offers this advice to persons planning a trip this Labor Day weekend:

Motorists should stay off highways during popular travel hours if they wish to avoid congestion. To stay out of heavy traffic, avoid leaving the state's metropolitan areas between 4 and 7 p.m. on Friday and driving back into these areas between 5 and 9 p.m. on Labor Day.

Persons looking for motel accommodations should have reservations, although there will be space at most roadside facilities. However, motels and hotels which cater to the resort trade at vacation centers will have few vacancies and advance reservations are essential.

Campers should have a difficult time finding space at state park campgrounds where reservations cannot be made. However, advance telephone reservations can be made at most of the 200 private parks across the state. There are also many city, county and township campgrounds plus state and national forests which should have vacant sites. Auto Club advises all campers to choose alternate camping areas in case the first selection is found filled upon arrival.

"If Michigan motorists will exercise the same care this holiday as over the first two summer holidays, our dropping highway death total for 1970 will continue," Fisher states.

He points out that 24 persons were killed on Michigan roads over Memorial Day and 27 over the Fourth of July weekend this year as compared with 34 over each of the same holidays last year.

"If motorists avoid alcohol when they drive, this state can cut its accident toll since our 'Bring 'Em Back Alive!' studies show that half of all fatal accidents now involve drinking drivers," he added.

St. Aloysius extends invitation

Father Joseph Kernosek and the people of the St. Aloysius Parish, 11280 Ozga Rd., Romulus, invite all local residents to attend the eighteenth annual Homecoming Festival on the parish grounds, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Sept. 5, 6 and 7.

On Sunday, Sept. 6, CKLW-TV's "Mr. Whodini" will present his magic show from 3 to 4 p.m. and will give free autographed pictures to the children.

On Monday, Sept. 7, Buck Buchanan, his Sheriff and loyal Indian friend, "Deyo" will have a special performance for the kids from 3 to 4 p.m., and will also give free autographed photos.

Buck, known as "El Pistolero", will perform a shoot-out with his partner "Archie Schultz" and will give a talk on gun safety. There will also be an authentic Indian Dance by "Deyo".

The church's famous Chicken or Ham Dinners will be served on Sunday from noon to 5 p.m. Home-made Polish Kielbasa sandwiches can be purchased daily at the hamburger Villa on the parish grounds.

Visitors are urged not to miss the existing "Moon Walk" as well as the many booths and rides. The following awards will be given away at the festival's grand raffle: Chevy Impala two-door Hardtop; 6-wheel All Terrain Vehicle (Amphicat); Philco Stereo; Zenith 18 in. B & W Portable

Addict problems probed

The U.S. Department of Labor is sponsoring an experiment in New York to find out how better to handle the growing problem of alcoholics and drug addicts.

Through a four-month Manpower Administration grant of $19,425, the Vera Institute of Justice, Inc., will explore the possibilities of operating a "supported-work" program for derelicts who are unable to remain employed.

The Labor Department grant will finance a study of existing programs designed to work with derelicts and will develop and design a large scale program of supported employment.

The study will determine the number of participants that can reasonably be handled, the selection criteria to be used, the administrative structure required, and the costs of such a program.

The Vera study will also investigate available resources of financial support for a major demonstration effort to include support for long-term housing facilities for the participants.

Staff at each of the existing Vera projects has emphasized that reasonable housing and intensive social and therapeutic services are essential to successful rehabilitation of this group.

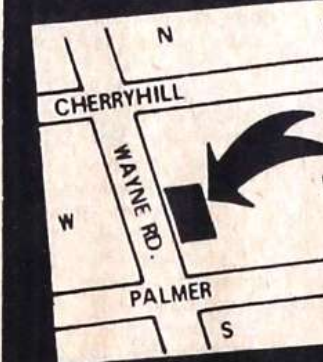

Bids are awarded

The Stanson Wrecking Company of Belleville, successful bidder for a demolition contract for the demolition of 11 unsafe and vacant residential property in Romulus, was issued 11 wrecking permits last week by the Romulus Building Department.

The firm's bid of $4,111 was the lowest of four bids received by city council. It was approved at the Aug. 18 session of council.

Fees on the wrecking permits totaled $115.50.

The demolition of the unsafe structures began on Monday.

Weight Watchers founder to visit Detroit Sept. 13

Mrs. Jean Nidetch, the founder and director of Weight Watchers International, Inc., will visit Detroit's Cobo Arena Sunday, Sept. 13, when she will hold the spotlight at an open meeting starting at 2 p.m.

Sponsored by Weight Watchers of Eastern Michigan, Inc. and Weight Watchers of Central Michigan, Inc., the meeting will be open to the general public as well as to Weight Watchers members in this area.

"The entire meeting is free to everyone," emphasized Mrs. Florine Mark, area president, "because we want as many people as possible to attend what we feel will be a most interesting and helpful program."

Mrs. Nidetch will speak on her favorite topic, how to fight and win the "weight war." She will describe how she fought and finally conquered a life-long weight problem, slimming down from 214 pounds to a glamorous, beautifully-proportioned 142 pounds.

In addition to her speech, Mrs. Nidetch will also direct a question-and-answer period from the audience, honor area Weight Watchers members, and autograph copies of her books, "The Story of Weight Watchers" and "The Weight Watchers Cookbook."

Haggerty Road is closed

Wayne County Road Commission has notified the Van Buren Township Board that Haggerty Rd., north from I-94 Expressway to Ecorse Rd., will be closed for a resurfacing program.

A letter to the township board stated that Haggerty Rd., will be closed from Aug. 24 until Oct. 31.

Maple syrup still untapped

Maple syrup is literally the biggest untapped resource in Michigan, according to Michigan State University forestry researchers.

Latest figures show 400,000 tapholes in Michigan sugar maples. There could be 22 million.

Incorporated in 1963, Weight Watchers has enjoyed phenomenal success. Currently there are branches throughout the U.S., in London, Tel Aviv, Puerto Rico and Canada.

More than 20,000 men, women and teens are currently members of the Weight Watchers program in Eastern and Central Michigan.

Money needed for kids' circus trip

William Quiney, a Romulus resident, has a problem. He has been given fifty tickets to the Wayne County Police Circus (to be held at the State Fair Grounds on Sept. 18.) but that's not his problem.

The Family and Neighborhood Services of Romulus tell him that they have fifty children in mind who would love to see a circus, so that's not a problem either.

The problem is getting the two together.

from the fair grounds. That amount of money is part of the problem.

However, a neighborhood church has offered their bus and driver for about half that amount. Ministers from two local churches have pledged $10 each, which helps some.

But it doesn't completely overcome Quiney's problem. He needs more than twice that amount to assure that a bus full of boys and girls get to enjoy the circus as he and Wayne County Sheriff's Local 502 intended they should.

"I was so thrilled to get the tickets," said Quiney, "that it never occurred to me I'd have any trouble using them."

Cub Pack 830 picnic a success

Cub Scout Pack 830 of Romulus had spent long weeks planning, calling, buying, coming and going in preparation for their annual picnic. Every eventually had been thought of and planned for.

There would be a cook-out, pot-luck dishes to pass, ice cream, candy, games and prizes plus a baseball game. Everyone was coming and it was going to be fun.

The morning of the picnic dawned soggy. By the time Michael Losacco got to the park at 7:20 a.m., to reserve their spot at Hawthorne Glide it was really raining.

Virginia and John Gray joined the vigil shortly and the three ate their breakfast in the steady tattoo of raindrops.

"We just never doubted it would stop," said Locacco, and he was rewarded for such optimism, because at 12:30 p.m., that's what happened. By the time the Cubs and families arrived it was a beautiful day for a picnic.

Everything went as planned, except for the outcome of the three legged race.

All afternoon Cubs had been eyeing a pair of brand new baseballs that were to be awarded to the winners. Each pair had mapped a winning strategem. No one expected pre-cub aged boys, Steve Bozelak and Tim McKay to win by accident.

Another surprise came when the parent game of egg-toss proved that the eggs really weren't hard boiled. Overhand throws were immediately outlawed.

Scouts' conference scheduled

A dedicated group of scouts called commissioners, who serve the hundreds of Cut Scout packs and Boy Scout troops in the Detroit Area Council, will be meeting for an annual conference at the Charles Howell Scout Reservation near Brighton.

The conference, divided into three sections, will take place on the last three weekends of September. Beginning on Friday (Sept. 11) evening, a highlight program including all phases of commissioner training, planning and lots of inspection and fellowship will continue through Sunday morning.

The conference will be of equal interest to newly recruited commissioners and to the veteran commissioners that have served long and faithfully.

Beginning Sept. 11, Eastern Division, which includes Cadillac Square District, Michigan District, Mt. Elliott District, State Fair District, and Lakeshore District will meet.

Followed by Northern Division on Sept. 18 with Greenfield District, North Trails District, Northridge District, Redford District and University District; ending up with Western Division coming into camp Sept. 25 for the weekend which includes Ambassador Bridge District, Downriver District, Huron District, Sunset District, Sauk Trail District, and Springwells District.

A man's home is his castle, but even within your own home you can be exposed to a wide variety of dangerous or potentially dangerous noise levels according to the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation, which encourages everyone to check his own dwellings for excessive sound levels.

Edwards, Stewart, Nays: Block, Motion carried.

Motion by Pennington, supported by Block, to adjourn the meeting. Motion carried unanimously.

Meeting adjourned at 11:15 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
LEONARD J. FOLMAR
City of Romulus

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk of the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the minutes of the Regular meeting of the Romulus City Council held on August 25, 1970 at the Waterboard Building.

Statewide drug abuse meeting set by PTAs

The president of the Michigan PTA, Mrs. Jane Tate, has called the nearly 250,000 PTA members throughout the state to a statewide meeting on drug abuse scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 30.

Mrs. Tate said, "The conference is planned in response to the many questions and requests for help from parents all over the state during the past year, concerning drug abuse among our youth."

"Too many parents in this state are either frightened to death because they fear their kids have had a drug experience? while others are completely unconcerned and think it can't happen to them and theirs."

"Although the politicians issue statements and propose laws; social workers are concerned and the police are more active, though ineffective in dealing with this problem; no other group of people has a greater vested interest in understanding and correcting the causes of this epidemic than the parents of the kids of this state."

"Unfortunately there has been no co-ordinated effort of citizens state-wide to attack the problem of drug abuse to date, and the drug problem among our youth has now grown to epidemic proportions."

"Therefore, I'm calling on PTAs everywhere to declare all-out war on the drug problem and I urge all other citizens and organizations in Michigan to join with PTA in this search for solutions."

An all-out effort is being waged throughout the State for attendance by as many citizens as possible, whether PTA members or not.

Numerous other organizations around the State have joined in the effort and are co-sponsoring the conference, such as both the Republican State Central Committee and the Democratic State Central Committee and Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals, to name just a few.

"The conference will address itself to the need for answers to why does it happen and how do we work effectively toward creating the conditions which will

Parents must be involved in learning

"If we are to educate all children effectively, the classroom teacher must find a way to actively enlist the involvement and support of the parents of each child in the classroom," says Mildred B. Smith, a member of the Board of Regents of Eastern Michigan University and elementary education director of the Flint Public Schools.

In the August-September issue of Instructor, an educational publication for elementary teachers, Mrs. Smith writes that teachers must involve parents in the classroom education of a student.

She cites ways to involve parents by asking them to assist with field trips, work as classroom and library aides, observe in the classroom, and attend parent-teacher conferences.

She refers to research to show that home environment strongly influences the child's school achievement. She says the teacher should help reinforce classroom learning by asking parents to read daily to the child, take him to libraries, listen to him read, talk with him and ask about school events. She recommends games that reinforce classroom learning and field trips to airports, planetariums, zoos, art centers, etc.

"The ideal and productive relationship," Mrs. Smith concludes, "is the cooperative sharing of mutual responsibilities by the teacher and the parent."

result in solutions for this problem."

Mrs. Tate emphasized that, "We're concerned with understanding and prevention of the drug problem in addition to effective enforcement and realistic rehabilitation programs but certainly not hysteria."

"The thrust of the conference will not be to weep or wail or wring our hands about the problem but rather to explore the underlying causes for the rise in drug abuse so we can develop solutions."

"While I have emphasized the need for acquiring an understanding of the entire problem, I would also hasten to point out to parents that very grave dangers exist when there is an issue as pervasive or frightening as this one.

The conference will be held at the Civic Center in Lansing from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the registration and luncheon fee is $5 per person.

Mrs. Tate again urged the citizens of Michigan who are determined to do something about this scourge which would enslave our young people, to rally together at this conference and make it the success it must be to show that our entire community of citizens intends to be actively engaged in a search for solutions and to provide a reservoir of support for action and legislation designed toward understanding and solving the problem.

Love and War—All over the country now are little dens of polygamous people. One man and his girls. One girl and her men. Or some several of each. Not all are scavengers. Mostly they work, but change jobs often. Mostly they rent ramshackle houses, pretending to landlords they sublet to one another. But they sleep in nests and take their meals like indoor picnics. They form and break up, mixing the matches. Peculiarly enough, jealousy is not what demolishes them. Money does that. As soon as some in such a bunch make decent incomes, their oddball devotions come unraveled. Couples pair off and disconsolate loners drift away. Then the young fellow from the car wash down the street shows up with his sleeping bag under his arm and the blonde carhop from across town drops in and forgets to go home. It is only an enormous personal control that allows me to refrain from moralizing about this matter. Aren't you proud of me?

Estimators figure one grownup in every five has gray hair. Or if you don't want to refer to a male ladybug as a lordbug, how about a laddiebug? It's known vampire bats kill about a million cattle a year. Sleep on that. Somewhere in the world in the next hour, there'll be 1,870 hailstorms, it's said. Three out of every 10 men in Sweden hold down two jobs.

Customer service—Q. "So you say no insect can fly as fast as a good racehorse can run, do you? Sir, the female deer bot-fly is known to reach speeds of more than 800 miles per hour. If you know any racehorse that can outdistance one of those little devils, please give me its name and the next running date." A. Come on, mister don't tell me you're still swallowing that old 800-miles-per-hour claim! It's way out of line. Latest research has proved no insect can keep up a speed of more than 24 miles per hour. Even the best spurt speed is only 36 miles per hour. Lot of good racehorses do better than 40 miles per hour.

What's the most misspelled word in English? Dr. George C. Kyte of the University of California says it's "question." Am asked again for the whereabouts of the most beautiful girls. That's easy, Seattle, San Francisco and Denver, in that order. It was a mere 45 years ago that the White House cookbook contended asthma could be relieved by placing muskrat fur on the chest.

Consider this—All this talk about the national population explosion is peculiar. Wait, figure it out. How long do you think it would take for our head count to hit one billion? Quite some time, right? None of our children, their children or children's children will see that, sure enough. Yet even if the census were to show one billion, the population density of the United States would still be less than that of Switzerland today. And who says Switzerland is jam-packed? Nobody.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

from the Carroll Righter Institute

General tendencies: Morning hours favor cleaning and making surroundings attractive. In the evening, some unexpected situation may develop which can be either beneficial or difficult, according to the way it is handled.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Being more conscientious in doing your work will make for better relations with associates. Go along with them easily now, because a new tide is coming up that will tend to change conditions. Be clever.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Today calls for the best use of your talents. Make the effort to improve your appearance through right treatments that will enhance your charms. Showing devotion to close ties is wise and right.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Use tact in handling home affairs in the morning, and be sure to accept some unexpected invitation for an event later in the day. Be ingenious in handling problems, and avoid being pedantic.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) Take care of necessary errands early, then plan for happiness at home in p.m. Show a sense of humor and avoid temper if offended by a playful remark.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Assist someone in having a real estate or money matter handled properly in the morning. Then go out and have fun. Talk your own future over with a monetary expert. Did you forget to pay that important bill?

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get on the good side of personal pals in a.m. before you take care of financial affairs. Do whatever is necessary to improve your health, or make your property more attractive. Take it easy tonight.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Handle personal problems early in a.m., so you are free to enjoy social activities with congenial people later. Show advisors you appreciate and will follow suggestions. Avoid negative thoughts.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You will receive backing from a good friend for an excellent project that interests you. Clarify some personal desire, then seek sound advice on the best way to attain it.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Taking care of a credit matter satisfactorily should be the first thing on the agenda. Then use a special skill that impresses those above you. Gaining the favor of friends is favored later in the day.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Morning hours bring opportunity to launch some new plan and to call it to the attention of a person of consequence. Communicating with out-of-towners is fine. Keep busy every minute and success is assured.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Handle pressing responsibilities early, then meet with new associates and iron out any wrinkles in plans. Make loved one happy. Later, you can enjoy something you like.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) That partnership agreement can be reached early in a.m., then you can get busy and do the work involved. Reach right policy decisions. A happy time with those you love can be had in the evening.

If your child is born today...he, or she, will be one of those intelligent young people who early in life want to study and understand everything possible. When mature, he or she will want to cooperate with others to the nth degree. This interesting chart shows great success in whatever vocation is chosen. Since it bestows extraordinary charm, it is ideal for a stage career or other work that places him or her before the public. The child should be given an early start in sports.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you!

Motor vehicles safety improves

State Police motor vehicle inspection figures for the first half of this year show that 100,000 vehicles checked 31 per cent passed, Capt. John Amthor, traffic division commander, reported.

The approval percentage was up slightly from 28 per cent last year.

Top three items for rejection were windshield washers, registration plate light, and headlight aim.

Amthor noted that check lane personnel arrested 10,344 drivers for some type of driver license violation while processing the vehicles and operators.

This included 458 drivers jailed for driving while their licenses were revoked or suspended. Summons also were issued to 357 drivers for not having insurance on their vehicles and to 452 for improper vehicle registration plates.

Amthor said 12 police agencies in Michigan now operate vehicle check lanes with Detroit recently joining the program. The others, in addition to the State Police, include Ann Arbor, Livonia, Wyandotte, Sterling Heights, Saginaw, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, Taylor, Flint and Grand Rapids.

Dog law changed

The Huron Township Dog Ordinance has been amended by action of the township board.

The ordinance now prohibits the ownership, possession or the harboring of a dog, six months or older, without first having obtained a license from the township treasurer.

Prior to the amendment, the age of the dog was set at four months or older. Mrs. Wilma Wilson, township clerk, reported.

BIRTH OF AN INDUSTRIAL PARK. Rapidly nearing completion is Metroplex, Ecorse and Middlebelt in Romulus, newest of the Thompson-Brown Company industrial parks. Developed in cooperation with State Mutual Life Assurance Company of America (Worcester, Massachusetts), the 80-acre, commercial-industrial development includes water, sewer, and concrete paved streets and will be ready for active development of industrial and commercial structures by early September 1970. Metroplex is convenient to both Detroit Metropolitan and Willow Run Airports and offers immediate access to one of the most extensive freeway systems in the United States - I-94, I-75, I-696, I-275, and U.S. 23. Electrical service is provided by Detroit Edison; natural gas by Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. Other industrial parks developed by the Thompson-Brown Company include Michigan's first Class A Certified Industrial Park - the 250-acre Farmington Freeway Industrial Park in Romulus, and Indoplex in Farmington. The firm also has additional industrial parks in various stages of development in both Walled Lake and Bedford.

Area Boy Scouts end summer program

As tents and equipment are being put away for the season at the local Boy Scout camps, the camp staff and camping committee members are reflecting their satisfaction on a most successful camping season.

Nearly 8,000 Boy Scouts and leaders have enjoyed a week or more at one of the four camps administered by Detroit Area Council.

The Charles Howell Scout Reservation at Brighton provides a fine program of Scouting Skills and adventure with a full aquatic schedule of swimming, sailing, rowing and canoeing.

A "Provisional troop" type of camping is available at this camp also, whereby boys can attend Boy Scout Camp for as long as they desire as individuals rather than attending with their own Troop and their own Scoutmaster.

D-Bar-A Scout Ranch near Metamora offers an adventurous type of camping with lots of space for hiking and out-post camping. Pack burros are available which is an adventure in itself for a new Boy Scout.

A string of horses are a feature at D-Bar-A which adds to the fun of Boy Scout Camp. Three lakes make available a full program of swimming and boating.

Rifle River Scout Canoe Base has canoes, light pack provisions, program helps and a Base Camp for Scout Troops and Explorer Posts to begin and wind-up adventurous miles of canoeing on the Rifle River.

Silver Lake Scout Camp near Indian River, Mich., provides a real opportunity for wilderness camping with a sparkling lake for fishing and canoeing. Troops here make their own camp set up, food preparations, and program.

Special Camp opportunities have been provided for boys of the Inner-City through a "Campership" program whereby funds make it possible for Boy Scouts to go to camp who might not otherwise have had the opportunity. Even these Scouts provide a portion of the camp fee.

Non-Scouts from Inner-City neighborhoods were invited to spend a week at either D-Bar-A Scout Ranch or Charles Howell Scout Reservation and indeed took advantage of the offers.

Enjoying all of the adventure of real Boy Scout Camping, many of these enthusiastic youngsters will join local Boy Scout Troops.

In addition to the camps operated by the Detroit Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, 284 Boy Scouts, Explorers and their adult leaders attended a real high adventure trip to Philmont Scout Ranch in Northeast New Mexico. Another 88

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

Labor Day will be a day for concern, instead of a time for parades and picnics for many people. Through the years, labor has seen changing times, changing conditions, changing requirements. In primitive days, man's muscles and hand skills spelled labor. The introduction of machinery brought change. One of the most revolutionary changes came about when Henry Ford set out to put the world on wheels. He virtually did so in making more than 15 million model T's. His change to an assembly line procedure obsoleted skills, but it rolled out a fondly nicknamed Tin Lizzie every minute against previous production time of more than 12 hours per car.

In today's computerization and automation, monster machinery obsoletes more skills, devours more jobs. This is viewed as a dragon of labor evolution, a Frankenstein of man's making which weakens a man's might for the right to work. The Biblical parable of the five talents, two talents and one talent man is beginning to show special significance. It may perhaps provide the only answer to the problem.
